

Understanding the Domain Name Transfer Process

Problem:

Understanding the Domain Name Transfer ProcessSolution:

Your Domain Name Registrar maintains information relating to who your Web hosting provider is for your Web site. When you change hosting companies, your Domain Name Registrar must be given the necessary information to redirect traffic to your new location. There are dozens of Domain Name Registrars and they all have different procedures to complete the process.